No. 248.—The following from the Government of India, Department of Education, Health and Lands, is published:—

REGISTERED PLANTS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PQ-6-218—Plant Quarantine and Control Administration Washington D.C.

Exemption on special permit plant material entered for propagative purposes under Regulation 14 of Quarantine No. 37, Nursery Stock, Forest and Seed Quarantine.

Approved April 25, 1930; effective July 1, 1930.

Provision is made in Regulation 14 of the Rules and Regulations supplementary to Quarantine 37, Nursery Stock, Forest and Seed Quarantine, for the importation under permit "in limited quantities and under conditions not unfavourable to be prescribed in such permits, of nursery stock and other plants and seeds."

For the purpose of keeping the country supplied with new varieties and economy propagating stock or for any necessary experimental, administrative or scientific purpose.

The ports have opened since this quarantine became effective and it is now believed that the horticultural interests of the country have had ample opportunity to build up stocks of selected varieties of plants and adjust their operations to the new conditions which followed the proclamation of the quarantine in 1918. It appears that this period of readjustment has largely passed, since most growers have recently received their permits for special permit stock to small quantities of new system and varieties to seedlings. It is evident, therefore, that there is no necessity for the continued assumption of seedlings and stock through further importation of these material plants in such large numbers as has hitherto been permitted.

The new Regulations, effective July 1, 1930, fix the maximum quantity of each genus or type that may be imported for propagation by any permittee in any one year. Within this maximum quantity, species and named varieties not available in the United States may be imported in any quantity desired. For example, a permittee may import 1,000 Rose plants of any one variety not already available in this country, or not as many plants of several such varieties, provided his total Rose importations for the year does exceed 1,000 pounds. Moreover, a permit is also required for the use of such quantities in the further importation of such materials. The fact that they have become available for proprietary purposes in the United States. Therefore, while these limitations restrict the total volume of plant material which may be imported and used in the U.S., they do not constitute a barrier to the American people, whose special needs are evidenced by the importance of collected plant material during the past few years. It is understood, however, that the restriction of quantity limits on the plants imported under special permits for proprietary purposes will not alter the situation. (Reviewed July 26, 1927) enclosed. (Information of Plants Reserved for Proprietary Use)

The quantity limits on the 1987 OFC trials, as explained in appendix PQCA-218, are replaced by the first stated limits. Although no change is made in the total number of 400 Quikill plants a permittee may import in any one year, the distribution limitation which permits to not more than twenty plants of a source or named hybrid is hereby removed.

A list of representative gases arranged alphabetically for ready reference, is given below, and appears each gas will be found the maximum possible quantity limit. Quantity limits for other gases will be furnished upon request. Some of the past data is materially reduced with importations of foreign gases as to be, these limits should be lowered in line of photo whenever practicable.

—GENERAL DENTISTRY AND ASSOCIATED.

It is hereby stated that the following arrangements have been made for the admission of the Hindu and Buddhist Examinations for the subjects under the following groups—The subjects, sciences, etc., to which the arrangements relate being specified, in all cases for which arrangements are made in the Gazette, the necessary information can be obtained from the Chief Superintendent of the Women Examinations concerned.

2. Candidates who may not be able to attend the Oral and Written Examinations should inform the Unit, sufficiently early, to the Examiners whose name is initial first against the subject brought up by them, so that arrangements may not be made for their examination. The particular subjects and grades for which the candidate concerned are unable to attend should be clearly specified in the notice to the Examiners.

Here, a Confucian model holds with them for one of his principal expositions, their own great periods, ancient and modern.

2. Although the 3rd January is the latest date fixed for the submission of certificates, it will be an advantage if the certificates can be sent as early as possible in December as this will facilitate the preliminary arrangements for the admission of schools are accordingly requested to be good enough to send the certificates as early a date as practicable. The certificates should not be sent in duplicate; all the certificates of a school should be sent together.

3. The certificates should be sent preferably by registered post, packed in stout toughest or other suitable material; parcels in which paper is used for packing are frequently damaged in transit, and some are a mutilated state.

4. In cases where the certificate of a candidate for the High School Examination is not sent for completion by reason of the candidate having absented himself from that examination or having failed to fulfil the conditions regarding attendance, etc., a letter explaining the circumstances should be submitted, the certificate number and name of pupil being mentioned therein.

5. Errors of omission and commission with regard to the entry in the certificate should be carefully avoided. The omission of a necessary entry or the existence of an incomplete or incorrect one, gives rise to correspondence and the progress of completion work is retarded which causes delay in the issue of completed certificates.

6. The entries must be made in the certificate and carefully scrutinised with a view to supplying omissions or rectifying mistakes. Attention should invariably be attracted with the Headmaster's initials.

7. In cases where pupils have been exempted by the Inspector of European Schools from the age rule, or have shown special record, or have been awarded combination of honours or caused shortage of attendance in the middle and date of the entry of the Inspector of European Schools should be given in the appropriate place in the certificate, e.g., on page 2 of the certificate against date of birth, in the case of age exemption, so that the completion of the certificate may not be objected to.

8. Particular care should be taken to see that the standard average is entered in all certificates sent for completion and that the entry made is correct in all cases. Certificates in which the entry relating to the standard average is omitted or incorrectly made will be returned.

9. The certificates of candidates who appeared for the Middle School Examination should not be sent with the certificates intended for completion. They will be called for by the office separately for purposes of entering the Middle School Examination lists.

The Standard Barometer and Thermometer are kept at 8 a.m., 3 p.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. and the daily means are obtained by the application of twenty corrections, deduced from twenty years' observations. The errors of the barometer is twenty-five feet above the level of the sea, and the pressure of the rain-gauge is two feet from the ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the correct civil day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected from 1st January to 31st March, the average day for the same period being 54.75 inches.

There were 24 calm hours during the month. The windward corresponding to the above numbers is represented by a N.E. by E. wind, blowing with a uniform daily velocity of 14.9 miles.

The outstanding features of the weather in the Presidency during the month were the early setting in of the "South-east" monsoon and the exceptionally heavy, and in places record-breaking, rains. Several stations had more than twice as much the normal amount of rainfall for the month. The heaviest of the monsoon was not at first attended by any marked weather in the Bay of Bengal and the rainfall presented with a bad map of the characteristic features of the monsoon season of the pre-monsoon period. Unsettled conditions appeared in the north-west of the Bay by the 11th and developed into a storm off the Presidency coast by the 13th. The storm passed inland over this station and extended across the north of the Presidency into the Andhra Sea. During the progress it gave rise to extensive rain in the Presidency, the falls being especially heavy in the Tanjore and Trichinopoly districts. Nagapalan had a record of 36 inches during the 24 hours ending at 5 a.m. on 13th. This was preceded by 4 inches on the previous day and followed by another 4 inches on the subsequent day making a total of 44 inches in three days. Another record fall was 15 inches at Trichinopoly during the 24 hours ending at 5 a.m. on the 13th. As a result of the heavy rain, serious floods occurred in the Trichinopoly and Tanjore districts and in places elsewhere causing extensive losses of the railway line and tele and considerable damage to standing crops, buildings and cattle.

At Madras only 61 on the 1st and on every day from the 7th to the end of the month making a total of 870 inches against an average of 11 inches. Falls of one inch or over were recorded on 12 days, the heaviest being 7.20 inches on the 13th.

Thunderstorms were recorded on an average of 12 days and were sometimes of considerable severity.
